Sweeties darling

Karen Doherty and Georgia Coleridge threw a children's party for adults at the launch of their book Seven Secrets of Successful Parenting, where Notting Hill hedgefunders mingled with Chelsea journos. Fortified by the Moët & Chandon, guests tucked into old-fashioned sweets and popcorn and flocked around Europe's largest chocolate fountain, which stained many a tie. 'It was the most fun I've had since my wedding,' Georgia was overheard saying. Piers Morgan started a food fight with the authors' children – during which his girlfriend Celia Walden clocked John Standing on the head with a sweet.
